

hosted by the Arizona State University Thunderbird School of Global Management and inspiring volunteer guided sessions from leaders across our industry, to new memories and experiences exploring the city of Phoenix, there is so much to share and can only encourage you take advantage of these opportunities and invest in yourself.

- Rich Morales, NJ Chapter President

Testimonials/Learnings:

“Breakthrough innovation is almost always the result of many incremental steps rather than one large one. This offers a different view for many of us that are responsible for product innovation and need to collaborate with others within our organization to meet these goals.” – Rich Morales

"The workshops provided relevant, real-world information useful to anyone on their leadership journey, whether from a professional or chapter perspective. The opportunity to network with insurance risk management professionals across domains, both inside and out of the sessions, was truly invaluable." - Rita Williams-Bogar

“The sessions were informative and directly applicable to leading a team on a day-to-day basis. I also really appreciated the opportunity to learn about and explore the different volunteer opportunities with The Society through attending open meetings of the various committees and attending the volunteer led sessions.” - Laura Panesso
